The Edge Football Camp at Salisbury University is a great experience for high school football teams. I have taken teams to this camp over the past five years with tremendous results. The entire Salisbury staff works with your coaching staff to create the perfect camp. The Edge Football Camp at Salisbury University is great camp and your team will leave the campus a better team for having attended.

The EDGE Football Camp at Salisbury University

The Edge Camp got our program going in the right direction. As a first year head coach (2013), our players were provided with quality instruction from the Edge staff and the opportunity to work as a team for the first time. Team unity is imperative for a successful season and program. The Edge camp provided this for our program. The food, lodging and facilities are all top notch. The Sussex Tech football program is thankful to be involved with the Edge Camp and will continue to return each year.

-Mark Quillin, Head Football Coach, Sussex Tech HS (DE)

The camp is well organized from registration through check out. Our players were well coached by the Salisbury coaching staff and the camp counselors, who were members of the Salisbury football team. The dorms are excellent and the cafeteria food was exceptional. The practices had great tempo and they included a lot of instruction. Following the individual sessions, we as high school coaches, were able to work with our teams in either group or team sessions. The Salisbury staff availed themselves during this time in the event that they could be of any help to the individual teams. Our kids had a great camp experience and I believe that we were a better football team for having attended the Edge Football Camp.
